

TAFT'S BIG DAY

With the Republican presidential race at a neck-and-neck stage, today's election in Ohio is most important.

When the polls opened this morning, Taft was well ahead of Eisenhower in the number of preferential votes cast in the eight states which thus far have held such popular balloting.

As to delegates, the two were very close. Which was ahead depended on whose tabulation you believed.

But the counting of the votes in Ohio is certain to break this temporary tie. Taft has tremendous strength in the area which knows him best. The same forces which produced him a 600,000 majority landslide two years ago when he was threatened with purging by President Truman, the CIO, and the "internationalists" of both parties, are at work today.

All or nearly all of the state's 56 Republican delegates are expected to be safely in his corner. He unquestionably will receive an immense popular vote, which will much increase his present lead in this department, where he has 1,897,044 preferential votes from Minnesota, New Hampshire, Nebraska, Illinois, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, compared with 1,850,718 for Eisenhower in the same states (Associated Press tabulations).

Meanwhile the propaganda battle goes on, the war of claims and generalities by which "proxies" for General Eisenhower are trying to get the nomination for him without his having to submit himself to interrogation on his views before the American people.

Whether it is fair to say, as some have intimated, that the General is hiding behind his uniform to keep from taking sides on controversial issues is perhaps debatable; but there seems to be no question at all that it is most unfortunate for the American people to be deprived of information on where the General stands concerning the key issues of the generation.

In this connection, it is interesting to point out that the recent Federal court opinion saying that President Truman had no power to sidetrack the Constitution in the steel strike, and that law and due process still reign in this nation, has a very considerable bearing on the political situation.

For the better part of twenty years, we have been governed by personalities. Men have ruled us, not laws. We have edged along the path which led Germany, Italy and Russia into dictatorships—the primrose path of granting vast centralized authorities to our rulers on the pretext of "meeting emergencies."

If that were a policy which was going to continue, if our courts were going to subscribe to the theory that a President has "inherent" powers to transgress the Constitution and suspend the laws whenever he feels like it, then there might be something to be said in favor of the concept of picking a president on the basis of his "popularity."

When the ruler of a nation has despotic powers, it is usually best for everyone for the executive to be both glamorous and personally popular.

In the Federalist papers is to be found references to a form of government known as "elective despotism," and that is the type to which we were rapidly drifting up to the time when the courts recently called a halt.

A man who is going to be a despot needs to know very little about the law, about administration of government, about politics and the machinery of self-government.

But on the other hand, if this nation is now swinging

HOPE FROM TERROR

The pace of the atomic arms race is quickening. Russia has had atomic explosions. Britain is getting ready for tests in Australia.
In the Nevada desert and at the Eniwetok proving ground the world will see the newest terrors in the American arsenal.

As tests in Nevada are demonstrating, there is an atomic weapon for every purpose. It is now possible to wipe out a regiment in the field, sink a single ship at sea or obliterate a great city.

Along with strategic specialization, the power of atomic weapons is increasing. The United States tests for 1952 will culminate at Eniwetok in the autumn. There, in the Pacific vastness, will be exploded a super bomb 20 or 25 times more powerful than the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima.
Still under development is the hydrogen bomb, which has a destructive potential beyond imagination.

The Nevada test is a part of a program for conditioning troops to atomic warfare. An atomic explosion is a frightening spectacle, to which soldiers must be accustomed if they are to avoid panic.
They must also be taught how to protect themselves against blindness and radiation.

Despite the wide publicity given in the events in Nevada, and the presence of newspaper and radio reporters and television cameras, little will be disclosed except the awesome effects of an atomic blast. Secrecy will shroud the design of the weapon. But what can be seen has substantial propaganda value. For potential enemies it will have special meaning.

The atomic arms race is disheartening to all men of good will and civilized instincts, but it is not without a faint note of encouragement. The development of new weapons has never prevented war. Against each new agency of death a defense has ultimately been found. But no defense against atomic destruction has been found, nor is one likely.
With every major nation able to destroy its neighbors, perhaps at last history will be reversed and peace preserved because no one dares to break it.

Slump in retail sales in several cities is attributed to people using up goods they had previously hoarded. Aging under the bed, however, does not improve the quality.

Things must be getting tough.
Tax assessors in one Kansas county report that all the horses they listed were old and spavined, all jewelry came from the dime store, motorcars were of ancient vintage, and not a single citizen had a dime in the bank.

The American people have quit trying to keep up with the Joneses because of the HCL. It is all they can do to keep even with themselves.

Is the distinction clear? If we were going to continue, as the courts have made clear they do not believe we are, the practice of letting ourself be ruled by the whims and edicts of individuals, regardless of Constitution, regardless of legal principles, regardless of the concepts of republicanism and self-government — then the background and training of the man we name president are strictly secondary considerations.

But if the law itself is going to mean something, if the three-part distribution of power under the constitution is to be retained, if the machinery of law-making and law-enforcing designed by the Constitution is henceforth to be observed, then it is essential that we have as president a man well versed in the art and science of politics and administration.

As to the two principal Republican candidates, the fact is, of course, that General Eisenhower has had no experience whatever with administering the Federal government, and such slight contacts with politics that it took him, apparently, most of his life to decide for sure whether he was a Republican or a Democrat.

Senator Taft, on the other hand, is almost universally acclaimed as the ablest and most experienced man with all the many and ramified problems of government that the Republican party has ever had the opportunity of nominating.

Arrangements were made to have holes in various streets repaired. Three or four "stop" signs were reported as needing straightening.

Considerable time was given over to need for domestic water supply, and the various possibilities discussed. Also discussed at length was the use of side-walk areas for business display purposes.

Samuel J. Illick, appointed by council as chairman of Memorial Day committee, told briefly of plans for the local parade, with ceremony at the Memorial Park at 1.15 p. m. Langhorne high school band will provide music; and councilmen were requested to parade.

Request was received from George Wheeler for grades, in preparation for laying sidewalks and curbs at properties at intersection of Trenton avenue and Main street.

Another hard day of training is over . . . but the busy hours are just beginning for this Telephone Center at Indiantown Gap.

"CORPORAL JONES IN BOOTH 12, PLEASE"

It's hard to see the loud-speaker in this picture. But you can be mighty sure it's heard! Every few seconds, the operator at this Indiantown Gap Telephone Center calls out the name of another soldier who's waiting to hear a wonderful "Hello!" from Mother or Dad . . . or from wife or sweetheart . . . maybe from you.

Handling the thousands and thousands of Long Distance calls from training camps is one of our most important jobs. One of the most heart-warming, too! That's why we've gone all-out to provide plenty of telephone service at military installations. That's why we've strived so hard to make the men comfortable in Telephone Centers while their calls are being put through. Magazines and newspapers are there for the asking, and the smokes are on the house.

Any way you measure it, telephone service in military and naval establishments has increased tremendously during the past two years. Yet this is only part of the story. Defense industries have called for many thousands of new telephone lines, and there has been no let-up whatever in requests for other types of service. So we're stepping up our expansion program again. This year will be one of the biggest and costliest expansion years in our history.

YMCA Opens Drive For $4800 and New Members

of eliminating this problem. The American way of life depends on such organizations. They need young leaders. It is our responsibility to give the youth of this country, upon whom its future depends, a better foundation from which to build themselves and America.

Betts then presented Harold E. Pavie, Jr., general secretary of the Norristown YMCA and experienced leader in YMCA work for many years. Pavie presented the principal speech entitled, "It Is Time To Walk."

Pavie traced the growth of the YMCA from its conception in London, England on June 6, 1844 when George Williams, tired of the disgraceful condition of London, formed the association. Pavie stated that the association has endured for 108 years and that it has spread to 68 countries.

Illustrating his talk with humorous anecdotes, Pavie related the ideals, aspirations and achievements of the YMCA with a display of enthusiasm that infected the entire audience.

Pavie stated that the art of living is the art of getting the most out of every minute for the growth of personal Christian objectives. "Undergird the foundations of the YMCA with hard work and the goals of $4,800 and 250 members can easily be surpassed," he added.

Pavie read a quotation from a speech given by Alfred Getchey, Supervisor of Training at the Fairless Works of the U. S. Steel Co. It was in part as follows: "If the YMCA is able to establish an active organization in stride with the fast developing pace of growth in Bucks County, it will be in on the ground floor with the opportunity to participate in the opening of a new era for the Delaware Valley. The YMCA with all of its knowledge and experiences, can and should take the lead in community planning of a kind that these services are not wanting."

Betts reported that $1,063 has already been collected and that there are 42 members, so that results have been obtained before the drives were actively started.

Oscar E. Norbeck, Southeast District Secretary of the Pennsylvania State YMCA and leader of the Bristol YMCA, was introduced by Betts.

Norbeck stated that he had found a survey which revealed that there are no fewer than 65 clubs, lodges and other organizations open to adult men and women in this area.

BENSALEM NINE SCORES 1-RUN WIN OVER NESHAMINY

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 6

In an extra inning fracas on Hanes' field, Bensalem Township nosed out Neshaminy High, 3-2, yesterday afternoon to take first place in the Lower Bucks County League.

Dick Gloyd's single to left broke up the ball game in the eighth frame. The hit scored Harvey Crowther. The latter had reached base on an error, went to second on an unfielded out, stood there while Bob Whitfield walked, and crossed the plate on Gloyd's base knock.

Gloyd's single broke up a brilliant mound duel between Whitfield and Tony Peale. Whitfield allowed three hits while Peale gave up two. However the latter was wild in giving up five walks and hitting a batter. He whiffed eight while Whitfield has 12 strikeouts to his credit.

The Owls were first to score, two runs being made in the second. After Whitfield and Gloyd struck out, Robinson reached base on an error and stole second. Parker hit an easy pop-up towards the mound but three Neshaminy players let the ball fall among them, Robinson scoring from second, Walker passed. Sciola was safe on an error, scoring Parker. Struble walked to load the sacks but Crowthers grounded out.

Neshaminy scored its initial tally in the third. Peale singled and was forced at second. Maurer, who forced Peale, stole second. Whitfield picked Maurer off second but Crowthers let the ball get away from him, Maurer going to third. Bowen's hit counted Maurer.

Neshaminy knotted the count in the seventh. Kaufman got a hit off Whitfield's knee, and stole second. Connelly sacrificed the runner to third and Jack Moyer's "squeeze" bunt scored him with the tying tally to send the tilt into the overtime session.

Overthrows and passed balls spoiled a nice pitching performance by Bob Heidler yesterday as Bristol Junior High bowed to Bensalem Junior High, 2-1 on Memorial field.

KELLETT'S HIT WAS BLOW TO DELHAAS JUNIORS

FALLSINGTON, May 6

Kellett's three-run homer in the third inning was the big blow yesterday as Pennsbury Junior High notched a 7-6 win over Delhaas Junior High on the winner's field.

Delhaas outthit the Pennsbury team, 8-5, but the big four-run uprising in the third was too much for the Delhaas team to overcome.

Young and Jones had two hits each for the losing team while Kellett made two safe blows for Pennsbury.

mas exhibit and the recent hobby exhibit. The committee felt that children with such interests are immune to the virus of Communism or any other foreign "ism," because they are growing up with an understanding and appreciation of Americanism.

Re-elected Directors: John H. Ruckman, Mechanicsville; Charles M. Meredith, Quakertown, and Mrs. H. W. Turner, New Hope, were re-elected members of the board of directors. The board will meet this week to conduct the election of officers.

Curator John Cummings, who assumed his duties in October, 1951 reported that a "campaign of preservation has been instituted and is being carried on actively." This process was stressed by the late Dr. Mercer, founder of the society.

Many of the larger items in the museum—principally furniture—is being restored, and many of the fabrics are being cleaned and put into improved condition for proper display. A system of stock record keeping was also started.

Accessions from Jan. 1951 to Sept. 1951, totaled 34, and there were three new items acquired during the balance of the year, the most important being the paraphernalia of a chair painter of Bedminster Township.

During the past year the museum register was signed by 7,308 persons.

The report of Librarian Audubon R. Davis showed that the library acquired 36 books, 13 manuscripts, three family Bibles, 23 pamphlets, 10 manuscripts, three engravings and numerous other articles, making a total of 208 gifts.

"Early American Glass" was discussed by Dr. Ethel R. Hankele, of Neshaminy, and the "Art of Ancient Glass Making" by Ivan J. Larson, of the Dordlonger Glass Works, at White Mills, Pa.

There was also an outstanding exhibit of quilts, samplers and embroidery. Several of the valuable pieces of glass shown by Dr. Hankele were 3,000 years old.

TAFT'S BIG DAY

With the Republican presidential race at a neck-and-neck stage, today's election in Ohio is most important. When the polls opened this morning, Taft was well ahead of Eisenhower in the number of preferential votes cast in the eight states which thus far have held such popular balloting.

As to delegates, the two were very close. Which was ahead depended on whose tabulation you believed.

But the counting of the votes in Ohio is certain to break this temporary tie. Taft has tremendous strength in the area which knows him best. The same forces which produced him a 600,000 majority landslide two years ago when he was threatened with purging by President Truman, the CIO, and the "internationalists" of both parties, are at work today.

All or nearly all of the state's 56 Republican delegates are expected to be safely in his corner. He unquestionably will receive an immense popular vote, which will much increase his present lead in this department, where he has 1,897,044 preferential votes from Minnesota, New Hampshire, Nebraska, Illinois, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, compared with 1,850,718 for Eisenhower in the same states (Associated Press tabulations).

Meanwhile the propaganda battle goes on, the war of claims and generalities by which "proxies" for General Eisenhower are trying to get the nomination for him without his having to submit himself to interrogation on his views before the American people.

Whether it is fair to say, as some have intimated, that the General is hiding behind his uniform to keep from taking sides on controversial issues is perhaps debatable; but there seems to be no question at all that it is most unfortunate for the American people to be deprived of information on where the General stands concerning the key issues of the generation.

In this connection, it is interesting to point out that the recent Federal court opinion saying that President Truman had no power to sidetrack the Constitution in the steel strike, and that law and due process still reign in this nation, has a very considerable bearing on the political situation.

For the better part of twenty years, we have been governed by personalities. Men have ruled us, not laws. We have edged along the path which led Germany, Italy and Russia into dictatorships—the primrose path of granting vast centralized authorities to our rulers on the pretext of "meeting emergencies."

If that were a policy which was going to continue, if our courts were going to subscribe to the theory that a President has "inherent" powers to transgress the Constitution and suspend the laws whenever he feels like it, then there might be something to be said in favor of the concept of picking a president on the basis of his "popularity."

When the ruler of a nation has despotic powers, it is usually best for everyone for the executive to be both glamorous and personally popular.

In the Federalist papers it is to be found references to a form of government known as "elective despotism," and that is the type to which we were rapidly drifting up to the time when the courts recently called a halt.

A man who is going to be a despot needs to know very little about the law, about administration of government, about politics and the machinery of self-government.

But on the other hand, if this nation is now swinging

This free class, which will be held at the Bristol high school, Wednesday evening from eight to 10, is open to anyone holding a first aid card issued within the last three years.

According to Mrs. Wisler: "This would complete the regulation Red Cross first aid course, and we are anxious for it to be known in every home. The instruction will be in the standard technique for the back pressure, arm-lift method of artificial respiration. This replaces the Shaffer prone method."

No appointments are necessary, and the course will be complete on Wednesday night.

Obermayer, Phila., vice chairman, board of trustees, The Woods Schools, will introduce the following: Katherine G. Ecob, author, and consultant to Veterans' Administration on organization of mental health clinics, New York, N. Y., "Growth of Social Responsibility for the Exceptional Child"; Seymour B. Sarason, Ph.D., associate professor of psychology, Yale University, New Haven, Conn., "The Psychology of the Exceptional Child: Some Comments and a Brief Review"; Leo Kanner, M.D., director, The Children's Psychiatric Service, Harriety Lane Home for Children, the John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., "The Emotional Quandaries of Exceptional Children".

In preparing the program, A. Ralph Carl, Ed.D., director, Child Research Clinic, The Woods Schools, states: "One of the most important recent trends in the field of exceptional children is the development of parents' groups. The significance of these groups may be an expression of our times—towards increased public responsibility for, and understanding of, the exceptional child and his parents. Regardless of the interpretation of this trend, it does appear to present both a challenge and an opportunity for dynamic leadership."

OVER 100 ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING

Bucks County Historical Society Hears Numerous Reports

MEMBERSHIP IS 466

DOYLESTOWN, May 6—Over 100 members attended the annual meeting of the Bucks County Historical Society here on Saturday, the largest in many years. The morning session was devoted to business and the afternoon to a discussion of early American glass and the ancient art of glass making.

Announcement was made that the society's membership is now 466. There was one resignation during the past year, nine deletions caused by death, and 95 new members were admitted.

The report of the activities committee showed that during the past year, six interesting meetings were planned, at which many of the wonderful acquisitions of the society were exhibited and described.

"The value of the society to its members has definitely increased because the members are showing greater appreciation of the many treasures in the museum," the chairman reported.

"Many of the newer residents of Bucks county have learned some of the historical lore of the county in a much shorter span of time than would normally be the case," he added.

The activities committee report showed that most important of all, members of the younger generation showed far greater interest this past year, especially in the Christmas season.

YMCA OPENS DRIVE FOR $4800 AND 250 NEW MEMBERS

Campaign Launched at Dinner Held in St. James' Parish House

SEVENTY-FIVE ATTEND

Harold E. Pavie, Jr., Norris-town, Principal Speaker Of the Evening

Seventy-five parents, school officials, political leaders and members of the YMCA organization attended the annual dinner meeting of the Bristol Young Men's Christian Association held last evening at 6:30 o'clock in St. James Parish House. The meeting officially launched the membership and fund raising drives for 1952 with $4,800 and 250 members set as goals.

David Landreth, chairman of the advisory board of the local YMCA and co-chairman of the membership and maintenance fund campaign, introduced Clyde S. Betts Jr., general chairman of the campaign. Betts introduced Harold N. Crooker, industrial chairman; and Gene H. Nichols, business chairman, who was unable to attend the meeting. These four men lead the campaign and residents of the area, who wish to assist are asked to contact any of the chairman.

Burgess I. Johnstone Hetherington spoke briefly to the gathering, stating that the YMCA, along with the Boy Scouts of America, were the greatest institutions of their kind in the world. Hetherington continued, "We have a much greater juvenile delinquency problem here than people realize. This last month and a half has been a trying period. However, in my opinion, the chief of police is understanding in these matters and progress is being made. Along with the Boy Scouts, the YMCA is one of the best means

The pace of the atomic arms race is quickening. Russia has had atomic explosions. Britain is getting ready for tests in Australia. In the Nevada desert and at the Eniwetok proving ground the world will see the newest terrors in the American arsenal.

As tests in Nevada are demonstrating, there is an atomic weapon for every purpose. It is now possible to wipe out a regiment in the field, sink a single ship at sea or obliterate a great city.

Along with strategic specialization, the power of atomic weapons is increasing. The United States tests for 1952 will culminate at Eniwetok in the autumn. There, in the Pacific vastness, will be exploded a super bomb 20 or 25 times more powerful than the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima. Still under development is the hydrogen bomb, which has a destructive potential beyond imagination.

The Nevada test is a part of a program for conditioning troops to atomic warfare. An atomic explosion is a frightening spectacle, to which soldiers must be accustomed if they are to avoid panic. They must also be taught how to protect themselves against blindness and radiation.

Despite the wide publicity given the events in Nevada, and the presence of newspaper and radio reporters and television cameras, little will be disclosed except the awesome effects of an atomic blast. Secrecy will shroud the design of the weapon. But what can be seen has substantial propaganda value. For potential enemies it will have special meaning.

The atomic arms race is disheartening to all men of good will and civilized instincts, but it is not without a faint note of encouragement. The development of new weapons has never prevented war. Against each new agency of death a defense has ultimately been found. But no defense against atomic destruction has been found, nor is one likely. With every major nation able to destroy its neighbors, perhaps at last history will be reversed and peace preserved because no one dares to break it.

Slump in retail sales in several cities is attributed to people using up goods they had previously hoarded. Aging under the bed, however, does not improve the quality.

Things must be getting tough. Tax assessors in one Kansas county report that all the horses they listed were old and spavined, all jewelry came from the dime store, motorcars were of ancient vintage, and not a single citizen had a dime in the bank.

The American people have quit trying to keep up with the Joneses because of the HCL. It is all they can do to keep even with themselves.

back in the direction of Constitutionalism and the supremacy of the law, then what is needed is a man as President who is thoroughly versed in the theory and practice of administering the law.

Is the distinction clear? If we were going to continue, as the courts have made clear they do not believe we are, the practice of letting ourselves be ruled by the whims and edicts of individuals, regardless of Constitution, regardless of legal principles, regardless of the concepts of republicanism and self-government — then the background and training of the man we name president are strictly secondary considerations.

But if the law itself is going to mean something, if the three-part distribution of power under the constitution is to be retained, if the machinery of law-making and law-enforcing designed by the Constitution is henceforth to be observed, then it is essential that we have as president a man well versed in the art and science of politics and administration.

As to the two principal Republican candidates, the fact is, of course, that General Eisenhower has had no experience whatever with administering the Federal government, and such slight contacts with politics that it took him, apparently, most of his life to decide for sure whether he was a Republican or a Democrat.

Senator Taft, on the other hand, is almost universally acclaimed as the ablest and most experienced man with all the many and ramified problems of government that the Republican party has ever had the opportunity of nominating.

Dickens, which included list of those whose taxes have not yet been paid. The final tax report for 1951 from the collector listed $6,002.74, with $5,837.08 collected to date.

The secretary read copy of letter on file, sent by council to a local resident claiming that a dead tree abutting on the street is "dangerous to street traffic," and instructing the owner that the tree be moved or removed and costs placed against the owner.

Arrangements were made to have

holes in various streets repaired. Three or four "stop" signs were reported as needing straightening.

Considerable time was given over to need for domestic water supply, and the various possibilities discussed. Also discussed at length was the use of side-walk areas for business display purposes.

Samuel J. Illick, appointed by council as chairman of Memorial Day committee, told briefly of plans for the local parade, with ceremony at the Memorial Park at 1.15 p. m. Langhorne high school band will provide music; and councilmen were requested to parade.

Request was received from George Wheeler for grades, in preparation for laying sidewalks and curbs at properties at intersection of Trenton avenue and Main street.

Borough treasurer, Miss Grace H. Illick, reported balance in general fund of $744.74; sinking fund, $5,519.79; highway aid account, $248.19.

Bills passed for payment were: Ferdinand Reetz, trash and garbage collections, $50. Philadelphia Electric Co., current, $102.91; Thomas Buckley, care of Memorial Park, $5; George M. Dicken, tax collector's commission, $4.91; Ernest Maret, police duty, $12; Government Consulting Service, $40.02; Zorn & Co., flags, etc., for Memorial day, $21; Bristol Printing Co., advertising and commercial printing, $41.07. Another hard day of training is over . . . but the busy hours are just beginning for this Telephone Center at Indiantown Gap.

"CORPORAL JONES IN BOOTH 12, PLEASE"

It's hard to see the loud-speaker in this picture. But you can be mighty sure it's heard! Every few seconds, the operator at this Indiantown Gap Telephone Center calls out the name of another soldier who's waiting to hear a wonderful "Hello!" from Mother or Dad . . . or from wife or sweetheart . . . maybe from you.

Handling the thousands and thousands of Long Distance calls from training camps is one of our most important jobs. One of the most heart-warming, too! That's why we've gone all-out to provide plenty of telephone service at military installations. That's why we've strived so hard to make the men comfortable in Telephone Centers while their calls are being put through. Magazines and newspapers are there for the asking, and the smokes are on the house.

Any way you measure it, telephone service in military and naval establishments has increased tremendously during the past two years. Yet this is only part of the story. Defense industries have called for many thousands of new telephone lines, and there has been no let-up whatever in requests for other types of service. So we're stepping up our expansion program again. This year will be one of the biggest and costliest expansion years in our history.

YMCA Opens Drive For $4800 and New Members

of eliminating this problem. The American way of life depends on such organizations. They need young leaders. It is our responsibility to give the youth of this country, upon whom its future depends, a better foundation from which to build themselves and America."

Betts then presented Harold E. Pavie, Jr., general secretary of the Norristown YMCA and experienced leader in YMCA work for many years. Pavie presented the principal speech entitled, "It Is Time To Walk."

Pavie traced the growth of the YMCA from its conception in London, England on June 6, 1844 when George Williams, tired of the disgraceful condition of London, formed the association. Pavie stated that the association has endured for 108 years and that it has spread to 68 countries.

Illustrating his talk with humorous anecdotes, Pavie related the ideals, aspirations and achievements of the YMCA with a display of enthusiasm that infected the entire audience.

Pavie stated that the art of living is the art of getting the most out of every minute for the growth of personal Christian objectives. "Undergird the foundations of the YMCA with hard work and the goals of $4,800 and 250 members can easily be surpassed," he added.

Pavie read a quotation from a speech given by Alfred Getchey, Supervisor of Training at the Fairless Works of the U. S. Steel Co. It was in part as follows: "If the YMCA is able to establish an active organization in stride with the fast developing pace of growth in Bucks County, it will be in on the ground floor with the opportunity to participate in the opening of a new era for the Delaware Valley. The YMCA with all of its knowledge and experiences, can and should take the lead in community planning of a kind that these services are not wanting."

Betts reported that $1,063 has already been collected and that there are 42 members, so that results have been obtained before the drives were actively started.

Oscar E. Norbeck, Southeast District Secretary of the Pennsylvania State YMCA and leader of the Bristol YMCA was introduced by Betts.

Pavie traced the growth of the YMCA from its conception in London, England on June 6, 1844 when George Williams, tired of the disgraceful condition of London, formed the association. Pavie stated that the association has endured for 108 years and that it has spread to 68 countries.

while there are only two for boys and girls. "The boys and girls of this community deserve more opportunities to form friendships and cultivate interests," Norbeck added.

A recording of the story of the YMCA father and son program, "Friendly Indian Guide" was played by Norbeck. It was recorded by NBC and was entitled "The Man Who Said No." The recording, in narrative form, explained the history of the father-son program and showed some of the benefits that accrue from it.

Norbeck introduced Frank Fuoco, Recreation and Program leader of Bristol YMCA. Introduced to the gathering were John W. Eckelberry, Esq., attorney from Fairless Hills and W. Haines Kent, General Secretary of the State YMCA. Also present was Maurice Biederman, General Sales Manager for Levitt and Sons Inc. The Rev. James J. Noland, Jr., Chaplain of Fairless Hills delivered the benediction and the Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, pastor of Bristol Presbyterian Church, asked the blessing.

BENSALEM NINE SCORES 1-RUN WIN OVER NESHAMINY

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 6 — In an extra inning fracas on Hanel's field, Bensalem Township tossed out Neshaminy High, 3-2, yesterday afternoon to take first place in the Lower Bucks County League.

Dick Gloyd's single to left broke up the ball game in the eighth frame. The hit scored Harvey Crowthers. The latter had reached base on an error, went to second on an infield out, stood there while Bob Whitfield walked, and crossed the plate on Gloyd's base knock.

Gloyd's single broke up a brilliant mound duel between Whitfield and Tony Peale. Whitfield allowed three hits while Peale gave up two. However the latter was wild in giving up five walks and hitting a batter. He whiffed eight while Whitfield has 12 strikeouts to his credit.

The Owls were first to score, two runs being made in the second. After Whitfield and Gloyd struck out, Robinson reached base on an error and stole second. Parker hit an easy pop-up towards the mound but three Neshaminy players let the ball fall among them, Robinson scoring from second. Walker passed.

Neshaminy scored its initial tally in the third. Peale singled and was forced at second. Maurer, who forced Peale, stole second. Whitfield picked Maurer off second but Crowthers let the ball get away from him, Maurer going to third. Bowen's hit counted Maurer.

Neshaminy knotted the count in the seventh. Kaufman got a hit off Whitfield's knee, and stole second. Connelly sacrificed the runner to third and Jack Moyer's "squeeze" bunt scored him with the tying tally to send the tilt into the overtime session.

BRISTOL JUNIORS BOW TO BENSALEM

Overthrows and passed balls spoiled a nice pitching performance by Bob Heidler yesterday as Bristol Junior High bowed to Bensalem Junior High, 2-1 on Memorial field.

Bristol had a 1-0 lead going into the sixth when the Bensalem team scored twice without the benefit of a hit to give Fazio a mound win over Heidler.

Fazio gave Bristol three hits while Bensalem made four off the local twirler. Bristol scored its run in the third on a hit, stolen base, and single by Cummins.

KELLETT'S HIT WAS BLOW TO DELHAAS JUNIORS

FALLSINGTON, May 6 — Kellett's three-run homer in the third inning was the big blow yesterday as Pennsbury Junior High notched a 7-6 win over Delhaas Junior High on the winner's field.

Delhaas outthrew the Pennsbury team, 8-5, but the big four-run apirising in the third was too much for the Delhaas team to overcome.

Young and Jones had two hits each for the losing team while Kellett made two safe blows for Pennsbury.

Pennsbury has two wins without a defeat in league competition while Delhaas has now won two and lost one.

mas exhibit and the recent hobby exhibit. The committee felt that children with such interests are immune to the virus of Communism or any other foreign "ism," because they are growing up with an understanding and appreciation of Americanism.

Re-elected Directors: John H. Ruckman, Mechanicsville; Charles M. Meredith, Quakertown, and Mrs. H. W. Turner, New Hope, were re-elected members of the board of directors. The board will meet this week to conduct the election of officers.

Curator John Cummings, who assumed his duties in October, 1951 reported that a "campaign of preservation has been instituted and is being carried on actively." This process was stressed by the late Dr. Mercer, founder of the society.

Many of the larger items in the museum—principally furniture—is being restored, and many of the fabrics are being cleaned and put into improved condition for proper display. A system of stock record keeping was also started.

Accessions from Jan. 1951 to Sept. 1951, totaled 34, and there were three new items acquired during the balance of the year, the most important being the paraphernalia of a chair painter of Bedminster Township.

During the past year the museum register was signed by 7,308 persons.

The report of Librarian Audubon R. Davis showed that the library acquired 36 books, 13 manuscripts, three family Bibles, 23 pamphlets, 10 manuscripts, three engravings and numerous other articles, making a total of 208 gifts.
